A Message from the President

Judy Kahl

On July 14, 2014 when the gavel was handed to me by outgoing President Bill Moss in the wake of a portentous local tornado watch, I was full of many thoughts. Can I, as the 77th President of Paint and Powder, and as its fifth female President, carry on the traditions of the Club's forefathers? Can I motivate the members to participate more fully in the Club's activities?

Then, I remembered...this is not a one-person Club...this is a Club made up of many talented, creative, and successful people. So, as I am flattered and humbled by your trust in me as President, I know I'm not alone, and that you, the members will assist me in achieving the Club's Mission.

My sincere thanks to all those persons involved in the process of electing me President. I realize that I'm following in big footsteps (Bill: shoe size 14, Judy: shoe size, 7) and that Bill Moss was a strong leader who accomplished his goals. Thank you, Bill, for your hard work and for keeping me in the loop during your Presidency.

During my one-year tenure as President, I have set the following goals:

To increase member participation on committees

To compile a reference file of written reports from Club events

To increase recognition by the public of the Club and its purposes

To increase membership

I was once told that I took the Paint and Powder Club too seriously. Well, I suppose I do since I'm writing this as President. I hope that each of you as members will take the Club and its activities seriously, have some fun along the way, and enjoy the ride into our 121st year.

Judy Kahl

2014 AWARDS

The Nancy Davenport Award

The Nancy Davenport Award is presented to that member of the cast or crew who has, by his or her dedication, good will, and quiet humor, shown the spirit that truly exemplifies Paint & Powder.

Carolyn Manning

The Bramble Award

The Glenn C. Bramble Award was initiated in 1957 to give honor to the one outstanding member each year whose plethora of nebulous rhetoric and debonair ways were noted by the Executive Committee. The original award was a ceramic bull's head that was passed to each newly honored member year to year. Destroyed accidentally in 1965, it was temporarily replaced with salami. In 1969, a new more durable award was given. Engraved on it posterior are the names of the proud recipients.

Eileen Chiat

"I would like to thank everyone in Paint and Powder for honoring me with the Bramble Award for 2014. Thank you for the wonderful honor" - Eileen

The Outstanding Screw Up Award

Art Rocklin

The annual Outstanding Screw Up Award (OSU Award) is given each year by the director to the person who did something outlandish, funny, stupid or unusual sometime during the running of the show. This year it was given to Art Rocklin, whose pants underneath his drag costume were so brief that his crack showed during the drag number. This happened during the final, paid dress rehearsal in front of the retirement homes and Boy Scouts. I'm sure the ladies from Blakehurst, Edenwald, etc., were either turned on or ready to throw up. Either way, it was funny and, needless to say, corrected the following night!

Other candidates for the award were:

Walt Graham for mugging & upstaging during the drag number, Trish Webster for completely forgetting her lyrics - - - again, & Harry Silverwood, who showed his boobs underneath his bra - - - yet again!

The recipient keeps the trophy, a huge bolt screwed into a wooden base with winners' names engraved on it, for one year. It is to be prominently displayed in the home for all guests to enjoy!

The director's weird sense of humor is evident in her creation of this award & she will not apologize, but take full credit for it!!!

Cast Thank You Party

The Cast from King Willy's Court celebrated their thespian triumphs on Sunday afternoon, June 1, at Bernie Cook's home in Lutherville. Sixty cast and crew members along with their guests enjoyed the beautiful, sunny day while imbibing wines and beers. The caterer, Zeffert and Gold, provided the delicious hors d'oeuvres and buffet dinner.

Many thanks to our resident videographer, Don Crouch, who miraculously managed to have the Show's DVDs ready for viewing and purchasing. Many laughs and "oh, no's" could be heard from the viewing room. There are a few DVDs left for purchase ($30). Please call or see me.

During the usual sing-a-long of the current show's numbers and other favorites, the "screw-up award" was presented. This prestigious award was presented to Art Rocklin for a wardrobe malfunction.

Art graciously accepted the award and admitted to all that the malfunction occurred on the night his granddaughter was in the audience!

My thanks to Trish Bitzel for co-chairing this event with me, and especially to Bernie, our Hostess with the Mostess!

Storage Locker Fun?

On one of the hottest afternoons in June, I was invited to a “fun time in the locker” session, hosted by Francene Siegel, Toni Rosenblatt, and Betsie Johnson. Actually, I chose the date, so my complaining about the heat fell on deaf ears.

This was truly an eye-opening experience for me as I witnessed floor to ceiling, boxes, bags, hats, sound equipment, wire, cables, racks of clothes, etc. One could not even enter the locker until several carts and racks were carefully maneuvered outside. The tedious work began. Then, looking down the hallway we saw Bill Johnson approaching with the P and P spotlight perched on a cart. Just what we needed... NOT! We persevered for almost four hours with folding, marking boxes, throwing out, hanging up, and all the things one does to organize chaos! However, had it not been for the yummy foods and the chilled wine we would not have made it through. Bottom line to this saga is there is much more cleaning out and organizing to do and a larger locker is definitely in the near future. My sincere thanks to Francene, Toni, and Betsie for enduring this thankless job for so many years, and thanks, also, to Bill for schlepping the spotlight from Brown Memorial. Believe me, this was unlike any “fun time” I’ve ever had!

ALMONER'S REPORT

Trisha Bitzel

Richard Single, Bill Single's brother, died suddenly New Year Day. Richard had been a long time supporter and member of Paint & Powder. Our belated condolences to Bill and his family. A card was sent from the club the week of Richard's passing expressing our sympathy.

Mary Ann Warren fell, which left her badly bruised, damage to her teeth and lacerations to her face. Nonetheless, she attended the July Board meeting with Buzz. We were happy to see her.

Dan Brook had been in the hospital overnight, but reports that he is fine.

Bud Piff had hip replacement surgery on July 14th and is doing well. He is at Keswick for a week receiving physical therapy after which he will return home. Bud looks forward to visitors, correspondence and resuming life (without pain).

Frank Fiske has undergone cataract surgery.

Bonnie King Rose has had eye surgery.

Our best to all!

Please continue to keep Trisha notified.

In Memoriam

Doris Entwisle, a professor of sociology and engineering science, died November 12, 2013. She was 89. Considered a pioneer in the sociology of education, she was the co-founder of the Beginning School Study, which monitored the progress of city school first-graders over 25 years.

Originally from Massachusetts, Entwisle started college at age 16 at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, where she earned a bachelor's degree. She received a master's degree from Brown University and a doctoral degree from Johns Hopkins. She did postdoctoral work as a fellow of the Social Science Research Council.

From 1964 through 1998 Entwisle held joint appointments in sociology and engineering, but for most of that time her primary affiliation was sociology. Her early work centered on developmental sociolinguistics, early child development, and family processes.

Karl Alexander, chair of the Department of Sociology, collaborated with Entwisle on the Beginning School Study, which they launched in 1982. "The project remained active in the field until 2006, and our collaboration continued until her passing, when we completed work on our fourth book," he said. That book, The Long Shadow: Family Background, Disadvantaged Urban Youth and the Transition to Adulthood, was published in April 2014. The study was one of the first to examine the outcomes of inner-city whites in addition to African Americans and found—among other things—that by adulthood, white men of lower status background, despite attaining less education on average, were more likely to be employed than any other group due to family connections and long-standing racial biases in Baltimore's industrial economy.

Entwisle retired in 1998 but continued to work at Hopkins as an emeritus professor. She received numerous awards for her work, including the Award for Distinguished Contributions to Child Development from the Society for Research in Child Development.
